ARTICLE XIV
PERFORMANCE REVIEW

Each Employee's performance will be periodically reviewed with him by his Department Head. The primary purpose of this review is to develop an understanding as to how well each area of the Employees responsibility is being done as compared with the performance expected under the Employee's job description and ways in which the Department Head can help the Employee achieve the results expected. The performance review is an important element in the development of the individual Employee for achievement in his present position and in preparing for new or different responsibilities.

Each Employee will receive a copy of the review form with a summary written by the Department Head upon the completion of his annual review.

ARTICLE XV
PROMOTIONS

An Employees past history, performance review and ability to meet the qualifications of a higher position through competitive examination, when necessary, shall determine his eligibility for promotion. As a matter of policy, the Borough fills vacancies from within when permissible to reward you, it's Employees, and to draw on your background and experience.

If an Employee is promoted, he will receive a salary increase for the position he now holds. However, a probationary period of ninety (90) days will be required, during which his performance will be reviewed. If he proves himself and meets the challenge of the new position, he will be permanently appointed to that position. If by chance, his performance is unsatisfactory, he will be returned to his former position or one of equal rank. In this instance, his salary will be appropriately adjusted.

It must be noted, that the probationary period starts after the actual appointment and completion of all necessary procedures. At times, it may be necessary to postpone the commencement of this period until all necessary details have been completed, even though, he is already working in the position. In such instances, the Employee will be notified of the actual start of his working test period.

If the Employee is designated temporarily to work outside of his regular job classification as described in the appropriate job classification in a higher grade for as much as five (5) consecutive work days, he shall be paid for the period of that assignment the rate for that job.

ARTICLE XVI
TRAINING AND SCHOOLING

Training and Schooling is offered by the Borough to every Employee in order that each individual may be able to keep himself abreast of the current advances in technology and methods of operation and in order to allow each Employee who meets the requirements to successfully complete promotional examinations. This benefit is provided at no cost to any Employee who requests it. Such request will be submitted to the Mayor and Council for their approval. If they reach a decision that allows the Employee to take the training

ARTICLE XVII
